Teaching Jobs in India :

Teaching in the country was one of the most esteemed jobs one could ever find and is still looked upon with respect and sincerity. Once a teacher, always a teacher. Infact the loyalty for this profession has only grown in leaps and bounds. In the beginning there were only state run schools or English schools run from Catholic charity. Today it is a different ball altogether. More than 15000 schools are present in the country right now with 8000 of them being private schools. With this enormous growth of schools the obvious is that teachers are always in demand. There are different requirements of teachers across different private English/Hindi medium schools and colleges. With pre-primary teaching coming much into being - teachers here are preferred who are young, dynamic and are ready to accept change. For teaching in private English/Hindi medium schools and colleges, Which are affiliated to CBSE or ISE board one has to complete 10+2 and Nursery teacher training course/Advance Nursery Teachers Training . While some institutes also insist on graduation as the basic requirement for eligibility to elementary training.
